

Planning with Agile

Functionality: Registration of a new user

- Conduct consultation with individuals who have prior experience in similar registration processes.
- Allocate approximately four days for the entire testing process

Tester Activities:

Test Analysis: Spend about 7 hours carefully examining the requirements and understanding what needs to be tested.

Test Design: Dedicate 7 hours to creating detailed test cases that cover all the important checks and scenarios.

Testing: Use 7 hours to execute the test cases and ensure that the registration function works correctly.

Report: Spend 4 hours creating a clear and concise report summarizing the test results and any issues or bugs discovered during testing.
